Mark: Hello you are joined by me, Mark!

Phil: And me, Phil

Mark: and you are listening to this week's hour of headspace

Phil: You're in for an amazing Headspace show, filled with all fashion know how's gathered by us and the fabulous headspace team. In case you don't know.. Headspace is a student run show, where a group of ten students produce a show on a different topic each Wednesday!

Mark: We have some exciting things for you over the next hour. Including one for all the image conscious men, with an interview in a traditional barber shop, and an in depth chat about river islands fashion trends this season.

Phil: We will also be taking a closer look inside Lincoln Castle market, and finding out about how to re-heel shoes, as well as talking all things fabric at Fabric corner, discovering what is available to you in Lincoln!

Mark: I believe that was just a number of reasons why you need to stay tuned in for our headspace fashion show, here with you until 3!

Phil: well. It certainly sounds like it's going to be an interesting one!

Mark: well brace yourself Phil, as there is more to come! All fab and fashion related I think you will find! Including your own opinions about some trends that appear to be popular at the moment!

Phil: Talking about “popular” trends, there is actually a trend I am currently fond of.

Mark: Oh Phil, do tell!!

Phil: Well it seems to me that all the guys have it at the moment! Oh yes Mark I am talking about the epic beardy trend, it’s been going for a long time now in term of trends, but I am quite the fan. Mark, are you into the beard hype?

Mark: Yeah! Well to be honest with you I am very much a fan still too! I see so many people out there with amazing beards... in the street,- at uni,- on a night out, -online, especially Instagram, to be honest I do follow some people purely because of their beard, as if I have just announced that live here on siren FM.

Phil: Well, let`s find out what some of you have to say regarding beards and facial hair, earlier we hit the streets of Lincoln to find out! -CUE

VOX BEARDS

Mark: well... we certainly stumbled across a few opinions out there Phil!

Phil: Oh boy! Didn't we just.

Mark: We spoke to a man who certainly has a passion for a well groomed beard. Earlier on we went to "Luke's Traditional Barber Shop". - CUE

LUKES BARBERSHOP.

"DON'T TALK YET"

STING

Mark: I actually found that interview at Luke's Traditional barber Shop quite interesting, I knew beards were popular but I didn't realise to what extent, what did you think Phil?

Phil: I really enjoyed it! I loved going to the shop as well, it looked amazing on the outside, and I had no disappointment as it lived up to the shops image once inside too, it has all the traditional chairs and everything!!

Mark: Oh yeah! I really loved that! In fact if you go on the Headspace Facebook page we have posted some photos on there!

Phil: you can also find a link to their website! Anyway after that insight into the profession of traditional barbering, let's take some time to draw ourselves back and into a world of a lesser male orientated fashion.

Mark: something away from the subjects of beards? How about.... Girls on Film by Duran Duran.

SONG: Girls on film: Duran Duran.

Phil: That was Duran Duran there with Girls on film, don't forget you are listening to the Headspace Fashion show on Siren FM! Still to come! We have an interview with fashion expert- Rose Davidson, as well as an insight into what it takes to be a successful fashion blogger.

Mark: That's all yet to come! Right now we have a guest with us in the studio

Phil: INTERVIEW CUE

INTERVIEW

Phil: Thank you to Rose their, now earlier our team of reporters went to River Island and found out all about men's winter trends. -CUE

RIVER ISLAND PACKAGE

Mark: Well there you have it, some fashion advice from someone in the fashion retail industry their self. We are joined here by Emma in the studio, you may recognise her voice as she co-presented a previous Headspace show, hello Emma, how are you

Emma:..

Phil: Emma tell us why you here today?

CHAT ...

Phil: Don` t forget guys to check out our Facebook page, you can have a look at our team, maybe rate us on our fashion? Or send us in a tweet on your fashion related opinion, regarding what you have heard so far on the show!

Mark: Well if I knew we were going to be “rated” I would have made more effort Phil, talking about ratings... what would rate my jumper out of 10?

Phil: 10/10! Where did you buy it from?

Mark: CHAT ABOUT JUMPER AND WHAT IT LOOKS LIKE.. Phil why don't you tell us about your outfit for today!

Phil: CONVO

Phil: Nice! Moving on... We still have plenty to come! Including an interview with a fashion blogger and an interview with Fabric Corner from Lincolns Central Market and more!

Mark: I must say that I do see some odd trends out there!

Phil&Mark: Trend Chat

Mark chats about collar - end of line

STING/JINGLE

Mark: If you have just tuned in you are listening to Headspace on Siren FM, we will be talking fashion up until 3! Stay tuned!

Phil: Peterborough born Sacha Mooney is an avid blogger. She's 20 years old and living in east London. As a day job she currently works as a secretary at a make-up academy in Camden & in her free time she runs a very successful fashion blog

Mark: reporter Harriet Pedder spoke to Sacha earlier to get the low down on blogging, trends and tips -CUE

FASHION BLOGGER INTERVIEW

PLAY STING

Phil: Thank you Harriet for that interview!

Mark: from a woman who blogs about fashion to a celebrity who has certainly taken fashion to all new extremes, here is Lady Gaga, Fashion!

LADY GAGA FASHION

Phil: imagine how much fabric Lady Gaga must get through for her unique statements, talking fabrics! We went and spoke to Kate Fleming at fabric corner in Lincoln's central market! -

CUE

FABRIC CORNER INTERVIEW

Mark: Interesting stuff there by Kate! I like the fact that she acts on instinct sometimes when trying to find the right fabric.

Phil: yeah me too! I guess it's sometimes like that on a good day when choosing something to wear, I like them days when the first things you pick up go well together to create a good outfit.

Mark: I often find that will happen to me when it doesn't matter, say... if I'm putting something on for a cheeky late night trip to the takeaway or a 24 hour shop. A tad bit annoying,

Phil: yeah sometimes the pressure of having to look good... say for a night out makes it harder.

Mark: kids have it easy, although I'm not impressed with any of the outfits my mother dressed me in when I was a child

Phil: Being able to buy your own clothes ones an adult is great, just a shame you have to then pay for the clothes too.

Mark: on the subject of outfits, we interviewed Lucy pool at Ruby Red boutiques about her women wear and children's clothing available to Lincoln - CUE

Ruby Red Boutiques interview

Phil: thank you to the lovely Lucy Pool, owner of Lucy red Boutiques!

Mark: I imagine trying to find clothes for yourself and your children must be twice as hard! Specially these days with the range available.

Phil: Yeah, I bet there has been some rather different clothes parents have bought for their children! Some people enjoy dressing them up in strange outfits, or themed clothing to be just that little bit more adorable or different!

Mark: I can imagine there's been some pretty strange outfits, being in uni.... diverse outfits

Mark: I think regardless of what age group you are in, damaging clothes whether it's a stain or a rip is just so easy!

Phil: Shoes are the worst in my opinion, sometimes its so worthit getting shoes re-heeled and cheaper.

Mark: well Phil I cant say I have had that exact problem, but certainly with the souls, speaking of shoes! Earlier we went to a special place where you can take your shoe problems to be repaired! -CUE

SHOE INTERVIEW

Phil: Great stuff, mark I feel like here on the fashion special of headspace we have covered a lot for an hour!

Mark: Me too Phil, well sadly we are running out of time! But please remember to look us up on Facebook and twitter!

Phil: and remember guys to tune into next week's Headspace show here on siren FM for the (SHOW SUBJECT), thanks for listening I have been Phil

Mark: and I have been Mark, hope you enjoyed our headspace Fashion show! We have!

Phil: here is Madonna with Vogue!
